Story Time

All programs run from 10:30 a.m. to 11:30 a.m.
An activity or art project will follow the story.

Friday, September 18th
If You Were a Panda Bear
by Florence & Wendell Minor

What does a panda eat? Which bears like to climb trees? Just in time for International Red Panda Day, let's learn about bears of all kinds in this cute book of poems.

Friday, October 2nd
"Stand Back," Said the Elephant, "I'm Going to Sneeze"
by Patricia Thomas & Wallace Tripp

All of the animals are in a panic. What will happen when the elephant sneezes? Let's celebrate Elephant Appreciation Day with a silly story of an enormous sneeze.

Friday, October 16th
Crawdad Creek
by Scott Russell Sanders & Robert Hynes

What will Lizzie and Michael find in the stream that runs behind their house? There's more activity in and around Crawdad Creek than you might expect!

Friday, October 30th
T. Rex Trick-or-Treats
by Lois G. Grambling & Jack E. Davis

It's International Dinosaur Month and T. Rex and his friends are trying to find the perfect costume for trick-or-treating. Halloween is the perfect time to read this spookily fun story.

Friday, November 13th
Let the Lynx Come In
by Jonathon London & Patrick Benson

What happens when a boy opens his door to let in a magical lynx? The amazing adventure that follows just may help the boy overcome his fears.

Friday, December 4th
Rainbow Crow
Retold by Nancy Van Laan

This Native American legend tells of how the crow lost his beautiful voice and brilliant colors while trying to save the other woodland animals. Will he be rewarded for such a selfless act?
