

CPS mission on prominent display

The College of Professional Studies' new mission statement is now prominently displayed just outside the Dean's offices at 110 CPS.

The display includes space for photos of CPS students and activities that will change every semester and that illustrate our ongoing commitment to students, faculty, and the community: Proactive, Resourceful, Connected, Caring.

One of our talented Interior Architecture students, Angela Voelker, designed the display, which complements the recently redesigned space housing the dean's office and staff. Student Erica Ostendorf oversaw the installation of the display.
