

Students For Freethought

Minutes from February 19, 2008

General organization news:

Budget:

We have attended the necessary budget hearing, but we have not yet heard back about the status of our request.

Constitution:

We discussed whether or not to add more duties to the fundraising position and have decided to keep it the same for now, if we want we can expand it in the future. We have also omitted a repeated phrase concerning executive meetings. The slightly revised constitution was approved unanimously.

Events:

Annie Laurie Gaylor:

We have heard back from her and she said she would be willing to visit sometime in April.

“Ask An Atheist” panel:

We have decided that the amount of atheists and theists should be equal if we decide to do a panel containing multiple religions. We are going to figure out what specifically we want to do with the event and then contact the president of the Comparative Religions Organization.

News:

The “Imagine No Religion” billboard in Pennsylvania was taken down and replaced with an “In God We Trust” billboard and then a “Why do Atheists hate America?” billboard.

Study:

There was a study that showed that, adjusted for their percentage of the population, atheists are less prevalent in prisons.

Announcement:

The Counterpoint is accepting student submissions for photographs, artistic pieces, and articles. If you are interested in getting your work published, e-mail Glenn Wills, gwill147@uwsp.edu, or Jong Won Lee, jlee653@uwsp.edu.
