2019-2020 Explanation of Segregated Fees

Segregated fees are charges, in addition to instructional fees, assessed to all students for services, programs, and facilities that support the mission of the University of Wisconsin-Stevens Point. Segregated fees are divided into allocable and non-allocable. The allocable portion of segregated fees mainly supports student-organized activities, such as student government and student organizations. The non-allocable portion provides the main support for student services operations and facilities, such as student health service and the student union. Students have primary responsibility for the formulation of allocable segregated fee budgets, in consultation with the chancellor and subject to final confirmation by the University of Wisconsin Board of Regents. Final recommendations on non-allocable budgets rest with campus administration, although students have the opportunity to participate in the review process.

The following is a summary of your segregated fees and a short description of each fee comprising the total shown on your bill. In most cases the fees are billed based on the number of credits taken, with 5 or 6 credits considered to be a full-time load for calculation for most segregated fees. However, for Text Rental 12 credits is considered a full-time load for fee calculations. Whatever the full-time credit load is for a particular fee, after the full-time level is reached the fee stabilizes and remains at that level no matter how many credits are taken during that semester. A graduate student enrolled in a course that is a slash course with an undergraduate course will be allowed to use Text Rental for that course, and they will be assessed Text Rental fees on those credits. For non-slash graduate courses, no Text Rental segregated fee is assessed to graduate students.
