Course Description: An examination of race in the context of the criminal justice system. Emphasis on the treatment of racial minorities as victims and offenders by law enforcement, courts, and corrections. In this class, we will examine current research and theories of racial and ethnic discrimination within America's criminal justice system.

Course Structure. This course will be delivered entirely online through the Canvas course management system. Use your UWSP student account to log in to the course from the Canvas Login Page Links to an external site. If you have not activated your UWSP account, please visit the Manage Your Account page to do so. All assignments and essays will be submitted on Canvas. Be sure to read the Canvas announcement every day. After reading the announcement, please carefully examine the module of the day.

Student Expectations. In this course, you will be expected to complete the following tasks:

- read textbook daily.
- communicate via Canvas message (see directions in syllabus tab)
- complete basic internet searches

Academic Integrity. The University has clearly articulated its policies governing academic integrity, and students are encouraged to carefully review the policy identified under UWSP Community Rights and Responsibilities. If you are not fully aware of these rights and responsibilities, please see the Student Rights and Responsibilities available in PDF format at <http://www.uwsp.edu/dos/Pages/Student-Conduct.aspx>. Specifically, you may wish to examine Chapter 14–Student Academic Standards and Disciplinary Procedures. Any deviation from these expectations will result in academic penalties as well as disciplinary action. The area of most significant potential risk for inadvertent academic dishonesty is plagiarism. Plagiarism includes but is not limited to paraphrasing or direct quotation of the published or unpublished work of another person without full and clear acknowledgment. Please be sure to cite all material you use. For the most part, your primary source will be your textbook. More information on citation expectations will be provided in the daily announcements.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities. Reasonable accommodations are available for students with a documented disability. If you have a disability and may need accommodations to participate in this class fully, contact the Office of Student Disability. All accommodations must be approved through the Office of Student Disability Services.

Diversity. In order to learn, we must be open to the views of people different than ourselves. In the time we share in discussions or Zoom conferences, please honor the uniqueness of your classmates and appreciate the opportunities we have to learn from one another.

Tentative Class Schedule of Readings. The topics for the day are listed on the course schedule of readings. The schedule of readings offers a quick guide to the textbook-assigned reading; this is not your only expectation. For more detail on the daily expectations and the assignments, you will want to see the module for each day.

Please Note: Material posted on Canvas (films, news, articles, etc.) is intended to complement your textbook, and these items are required and will be on the exams. Again, please see the module for each day.
