Course Description

This course introduces preservice teachers to a continuum of literacy learning and environment that addresses students' talents, needs, life experiences, and cultural backgrounds. This course satisfies the state mandate for phonics through strategies that are embedded in meaningful contexts. For the required "partner" practicum experience, preservice teachers will have the opportunity to assess, plan, and teach an elementary student 2 days a week (weeks 4-14). Depending on the grade level of your student, the time varies from 20 to 45 minutes. Every practicum is unique, depending on the grade of a student, their literacy needs, and classroom teacher's expectations. Always, preservice teachers are expected to act in a professional manner. As a guest in any classroom, how a preservice teacher prepares for and adjusts to experiences (usually out of their hands) depends on a growth mindset! UWSP PEP Teacher Candidate Dispositions and the EDUC 302 Dispositions provide a continuum of essential teaching profession behaviors (Appendix F). Course assignments are aligned to effective, responsive literacy practices and are intentionally situated within Danielson's Framework for Teaching (DFFT). Aligned to the Interstate New Teachers Assessment and Support Consortium (INTASC) standards, DFFT is a recognized protocol used to evaluate practicing classroom teachers across the nation and is the basis of the edTPA, the evaluative tool used during student teaching.

FoRT Lab

The FoRT Lab is to supplement, not supplant, EDUC 302: Methods and Materials for Teaching Reading I. Lab facilitators will provide participants with FoRT preparation activities that align to most of the content of EDUC 302. Participants are required to bring the Foundations of Reading Study Guide by Yaeger and other necessary materials, attend lab sessions weeks 4-13, and actively and respectfully engage in lab activities. A Code of Conduct will be signed prior to the first lab session. The code of conduct outlines specific professional dispositions and requirements for a successful lab experience.

Course & University Policies

ATTENDENCE is important! You may miss 1 class without penalty. Email the professor prior to missing a class. Second class missed, -5 points. Third class missed -10 points. If a student misses more than 3 classes, the student will set up a time to meet with the professor (points deducted, instructor's discretion). If there is an unforeseen circumstance (e.g. funeral, prolong illness, etc.) documentation of the miss is necessary. With all absences, it is your responsibility to have a friend take notes for you, grab handouts, etc.

DISPOSITIONS. The instructor is obligated to notify the appropriate faculty members, and in certain cases the SOE Dean, if there is a concern with a preservice teacher's dispositions. With that concern, the student's grade may be affected (instructor's discretion).

PARTICIPATION includes reading required course materials PRIOR to class sessions; completing all individual/group assignments on time; engaging in respectful and collaborative conversations; and using electronic devices only for class-related activities (cell phones put away).

LATE WORK depends on the situation and assignment, accepting or not accepting late work is the instructor's discretion.

PEP REQUIREMENTS for this course include Reading Conference Form & Planning Commentary (gleaned from the practicum experience.

PRACTICUM is a semester-long, 2 day per week practicum is required. Most practicums are set up through the instructor. A practicum assessment form must be signed by a classroom teacher. This form is scanned into your teaching portfolios under credentials.

RECEIVE a C- or better in this course as outlined in the Teacher Certification/Academic Standards as required for teacher certification (See UW-Stevens Point catalog). Failure to earn a C- or higher will result in the student needing to repeat the course.

UWSP BILL of RIGHTS & RESPONSIBILITIES ensures that each student has the opportunity to succeed, a set of expectations have been developed for all students and instructors and is available @ http://www.uwsp.edu/stuaffairs/Pages/rightsandresponsibilites.aspx. Also included are polices regarding academic misconduct found @ http://www.uwsp.edu/stuaffairs/Documents/RightsRespons/SRR-2010/rightsChap14.pdf.

Course Assignments

Assignments 1-4 are embedded in Danielson's Framework for Teaching (DFFT). DFFT provides the guidelines on what a teacher does when teaching. To better understand the teaching responsibilities of teachers, DFFT divides the complex activity of teaching into 4 domains: (1) planning and preparation, (2) the classroom environment, (3) instruction, and (4) professional responsibilities. Learning Outcomes provide insight into what a preservice teacher will be able to accomplish by the end of this course. Learning Objectives (LO) provide the learning activities preservice teachers will engage in/complete to achieve the learning outcome. Evaluation forms for each assignment align with the LOs and InTASC standards.

Assignment 1: Planning & Preparation (65 Points). The typical teacher has children doing a lot of stuff. How is what I am having children do creating readers and writers? ~Routman

Learning Outcomes:

#6: Assessment The preservice teacher understands and uses multiple methods of assessment to engage learners in their own growth, to monitor learner progress, and to guide the teacher's and learner's decision making.

#7: Planning for Instruction The preservice teacher plans instruction that supports students in meeting rigorous learning goals by drawing upon knowledge of content areas, curriculum, cross-disciplinary skills, and pedagogy, as well as knowledge of learners and the community context.

#9: Professional Learning and Ethical Practice The preservice teacher engages in professional learning communities and uses evidence to continually evaluate his/her practice, particularly the effects of his/her choices and actions on others (learners, families, other professional-classroom teacher/peers/instructor, and the community), and adapts practice to meet the needs of learner.

Learning Objective: Given teacher materials and course learning opportunities, preservice teachers will collaborate, assess, plan, and deliver responsive literacy instruction, to a student—as measured by Practicum & Assignment 1 Evaluation Forms.

Directions:

1. TEACHING PARTNERS. During weeks 4-14 partners work with one student, 2x per week (30-45 minutes sessions). Partners read and use Boushey & Moser's The CAFÉ Book & Serravallo's The Reading Strategies Book to plan for individual instruction. Double-Entry Diaries document reading. Partners organize their teaching materials in a binder (Figure 1). Partners are required to bring their teacher binders to EVERY class! Figure 1, Assignment 1 section, 1-7 lays out exactly what is needed to successfully complete this assignment and practicum. 1-7 will be thoroughly explained and/or modeled. Your double-entry diaries and materials evidencing practicum teaching will support writing your planning commentary writing (#6).

Assignment 2: Classroom Environment (30 Points). Let's work toward kindness, civility, and human compassion as an integral part of the curriculum. ~Laminack & Wadsworth

Learning Outcomes:

- #2: Learning Differences The preservice teacher uses understanding of individual differences, diverse cultures, and communities to ensure inclusive learning environments that enable each learner to meet high standards.
- #3: Learning Environment The preservice teacher works with others to create environments that support individual and collaborative learning that encourages positive social interaction, active engagement in learning/self-motivation.

#10: Leadership and Collaboration The preservice teacher seeks appropriate leadership roles & opportunities to take responsibility for student learning, to collaborate with learners, families, colleagues, other school professionals, & community members to ensure learner growth, and to advance the profession.

Learning Objective: Preservice teachers will collaborate with their teaching partner and grade level team to investigate DFFT Classroom Environment Domain to present (through performance) their understanding of creating classroom environment that highlight ONE of the following components of: Creating an Environment of Respect and Rapport, Establishing a Culture for Learning, Managing classroom Procedures, Managing Student, Behavior Organizing Physical Space —as measured by Assignment 2 Evaluation Form.

Directions:

- 1. TEACHING PARTNERS. Partners will investigate Danielson's Classroom Environment Domain (Danielson's Handout in D2L under Assignments) and take anecdotal notes in the margins—make connections to what you know, Cambourne's Learning Conditions, etc. Place these two teaching materials in the Classroom Management section of the teacher binder (Figure 1).
- 2. GRADE LEVEL TEAMS. Grade level teams will discuss then demonstrate a specific component with the class. The class will brainstorm requirements of discussion and demonstration.
- 3. Appendix D: Assignment 2 Evaluation Form (30 Points). *Self & Peer Evaluation

Assignment 3: Instruction (30 Points). Instruction is the heart of teaching - student engagement - and when teachers develop learning tasks that are meaningful to student they are masters of both pedagogy and content. ~Danielson

Learning Outcomes:

#1: Learner Development The preservice teacher understands how learners grow and develop, recognizing that patterns of learning and development vary individually within and across the cognitive, linguistic, social, emotional, and physical areas, and designs and implements developmentally appropriate and challenging learning experiences.

#5: Application of Content The preservice teacher understands how to connect concepts and use differing perspectives to engage learners in critical thinking, creativity, and collaborative problem solving to real local/global issues.

#8: Instructional Strategies The preservice teacher understands and uses a variety of instructional strategies to encourage learners to develop deep understanding of content areas and their connections, and to build skills to apply knowledge in meaningful ways.

Learning Objective: Preservice teachers will collaborate with their teaching partners and grade level teams to develop their knowledge of literacy and content areas (i.e., science) by designing learning experiences for a fictitious small group (and used with practicum student if applicable)—as measured by Assignment 3 Evaluation Form.

Directions:

- 1. TEACHING PARTNERS. Read chapters 1, 2, and the specific chapter (e.g., PreA-Emergent, Early, Transitional, or Fluent) that correlates to your practicum student's literacy level in Jan Richardson's The Next Step in Guided Reading K-8. Document your reading in a Double-Entry Diary (same as assignment 1). With your partner, choose and watch Jan Richardson teach a model lesson (Library eReserves) that relates your practicum student's reading level—also correlates to chapters in Richardson's book. Copy a lesson template, and take "teaching tips" notes as you watch the lesson.
- 2. GRADE LEVEL TEAMS. During class, grade level teams will have time to compare notes on what they learned from the chapter they read (related to their practicum student) and video. Teams will design a new GR lesson (copy a new lesson template) that integrates a content area (or nonfiction) and what they learned from watching Jan Richardson. Partners will use this lesson, or something learned from observing Jan, with their practicum students. Place all materials from this assignment in the Instruction section of the teacher binder (Figure 1).
- 3. Appendix E: Assignment 3 Evaluation Form (30 Points).

Assignment 4: Professional Responsibilities (75 Points). Respect matters. Big time. And it requires listening. ~Johnston

First, the FoRT Lab provides preservice teachers a professional space to develop and hone their test-taking skills. Second, course quizzes are based on EDUC 302 and FoRT content, which the instructor purposefully arranges in the testing format similar to the FoRT. Quizzes are taken on a computer, same as the FoRT. Wisconsin DPI requires that teaching candidates pass the FoRT in order to receive an educator license in Wisconsin.

Effective January 31, 2014, applicants for initial licensure as an elementary teacher (grades K-5, EC, EC-MC, MC-EA), a special education teacher, a reading teacher, or reading specialist must receive a passing score of 240 or higher on the Wisconsin Foundations of Reading Test. Any licensed teacher wanting to add one or more of these areas to their license must also pass the test.

This course does not include all the content necessary to pass the FoRT. However, EDUC 302's content does focus on most of the vocabulary within the subarea of Foundations of Reading Development. This course infuses some test preparation activities, thus attending FoRT Lab sessions is required (and smart). The following lab requirements and quizzes support preservice teachers in learning how to study for and take the FoRT soon after this course (http://www.wi.nesinc.com/PageView.aspx?f=GEN_FOR.html, complete testing framework). The quizzes, lab experience, and taking the FoRT fulfill this course's Final Exam requirement. Directions:

1. FoRT Lab Requirements (20 Points)

- ➤ Sign the Code of Conduct
- ➤ Purchase Yaeger's Study Guide (p. 1)
- ➤ Attend 10 lab sessions, 2 points per session, in weeks 4-13 (requirements for consistently attending the lab session that you are in will be discussed in EDUC 302).

Preservice Teacher Directions:

When you start your practicum, make a copy of this form for your teacher and hand it to them. This form is filled out and signed by the classroom teacher. If the teacher wishes, this form may be placed in a sealed envelope and returned to me. This form is due by Week 15. Because all practicum hours must be documented for education courses, it is your responsibility to scan this form and place it in the credential area of your teaching portfolio.

Appendix C: Planning Commentary Template/Point Scale

edTPA PLANNING COMMENTARY – Sections 1 & 2 (Modified to align with EDUC 302 Practicum)

Directions: Use your Reading Conference Form, assessments, and all other artifacts from your practicum to support your response in each section. Be concise and single-space your responses. Each section must be error-free, attention to transitions, include appropriate academic vocabulary related to literacy, does not exceed 3 pages, and is written in a professional, yet personal, style to receive full points.

Central Focus.

 Describe one central focus (skill) and the essential literacy strategy(s) for comprehending OR composing text that you worked on with your practicum student.

Paragraph describes the central focus and related strategies. Paragraph includes how the central focus and strategies supports comprehending or composing text.

- Given the central focus, describe how the standards and learning objectives within your learning segment address
 - the essential literacy strategy
 - related skills that support use of the strategy
 - reading/writing connections

Paragraph explains how the standard or objective is connected to the central focus and strategies. Paragraph includes how they used the strategy to support their student learning the skill (central focus) and weaves in meaningful reading and/or writing connections completed to, with, and by practicum student.

c. Explain how your plans (from the Reading Conference Form) build on each other to help students make connections between the essential literacy strategy to comprehend OR compose text and related skills that support use of the strategy in meaningful contexts.

Paragraph documents how plans were sequenced in a logical progression to 1) build student's connections between strategy and skill in meaningful contexts 2) respond to practicum student's individual learning needs.

SECTION I POINT SCALE: 0 2 4 6 10

- Knowledge of Students to Inform Teaching. For each of the prompts below (2a-b), describe what you know about your practicum student with respect to the central focus.
 - a. Prior academic learning and prerequisite skills related to the central focus—Cite evidence of what students know, what they can do, and what they are still learning to do.

Paragraph cites evidence of what students already know, can do, and still need to learn—in positive way. How does this relate to the central focus (skill)? How did this evidence inform your teaching?

b. Personal, cultural, and community assets related to the central focus—What do you know about your students' everyday experiences, cultural and language backgrounds and practices, and interests?

Paragraph is concise and specifically cites how plans focus on student's unique needs, for example student's life/school experiences, cultural and language backgrounds, and/or interests.

Appendix G: Checklist

PROFESSOR CATE'S "LET'S BE ON THE SAME PAGE" CHECKLIST

This is a simple checklist. We will read and discuss it together. Each check means that YOU agree with a statement and that if a statement becomes an issue that YOU immediately bring it to my attention. With open and caring minds, a professional (and private) discussion will take place on how we can better learn together. I will thoroughly read the entire syllabus, review D2L content and how it is organized, and read through assignments several times so that I know exactly what to expect. I will complete all assignments on time. I will carefully follow assignment directions so that what I hand in represents my developing knowledge related to teaching and the profession. Even if I don't have a strong interest in teaching reading or I have always felt that reading is not my thing, I plan to do my best in learning material for my practicum student, no matter their grade level, and for my future classroom. يم will seek out Professor Cate when I need help, feel confused, or may need to learn in a different way. I will make a serious attempt to attend every class (if not email Professor Cate prior to missing class and ask a friend to take notes and grab handouts) because I know that I can only miss one class, after that points are deducted. 📈 will make a serious attempt to attend and be prepared for all practicums and if not, I will email the teacher prior to missing a session. I understand that the teacher and my student count on me. . I expect to receive a good grade in this course because I will get to know the required teacher resources, read all required readings, attend class, develop my teaching dispositions, participate in class activities, and complete assignments. Throughout the course, if the course objectives and requirements are NOT clear, I will let Professor Cate know. Throughout the course, if for some reason the materials and activities are NOT relevant to what I believe I need to know and be able to do to be an effective literacy teacher, I will let Professor Cate know. Throughout the course, if the workload seems overwhelming (based on objectives and requirements of the course) I will discuss this with Professor Cate. , I plan to learn A LOT in this course and if for some reason I am not learning A LOT, I will let Professor Cate know ASAP! If at any time I feel that Professor Cate is NOT excited about the content, encouraging active participation, respectful or caring, and does NOT provide useful feedback. I will chat with Professor Cate about it earlier rather than later.
