Course Summary

This course is a general survey of the United States from 1877 to the present. During the semester, students will analyze, discuss, and consider how the United States developed from a nation divided by civil war into a global superpower. In doing so, this course emphasizes some fundamental themes in American history such as political power, international affairs, freedom, and definitions of citizenship. In particular, we will focus on questions regarding the diversity of our nation. How has the American experience differed based on race, gender, ethnicity, and socioeconomic status? Which groups have been marginalized, and how have they negotiated these conditions to better their circumstances? And how has diversity shaped the very fabric of American identity? Students will address these issues while considering the evolving meaning of American nationhood over the past 150 years.

GEP Learning Outcomes

Students taking History 177 will develop skills necessary for basic historical understanding and analysis, focusing on the GEP requirements of Historical Perspectives and U.S. Diversity. Upon completing these requirements, students will be able to:

- Describe events from past cultures, societies, or civilizations.
- Recognize the varieties of evidence that historians use to offer diverse perspectives on the meaning of the past.
- Identify the role of human agency in shaping events and historical change.
- Explain historical causality.
- Evaluate competing historical claims that frequently inform the present.
- Describe the various dimensions of diversity and marginalization within the United States.
- Explain the means by which one or more persistently marginalized groups in the U.S. have negotiated the conditions of their marginalization.

Course Learning Outcomes

Upon completing this course, students will be able to:

- Identify major events, developments, and themes of United States history from Reconstruction to the present.
- Develop an argument about the past and use evidence to support those claims.
- Recognize, summarize, and interpret historical documents representing a diversity of perspectives.
- Compare the experiences of marginalized groups and explain how American diversity has shaped the development of the nation.

Required Materials

Eric Foner, Give Me Liberty!: An American History, 5th ed., vol. 2 (rental)

Eric Foner, ed, Voices of Freedom: A Documentary History 4th or 5th ed., vol. 2 (available for purchase at the bookstore. This syllabus reflects page numbers for the 4th edition. If you purchased the 5th edition, please refer to the title of the reading rather than the page number)

Turning Point Cloud access, available for $13 purchase from the bookstore (optional clickers are available at the UWSP Tech Service Desk, 027 ALB Library)

Assignments

Participation: Attendance will be taken at the beginning of each class. There are a number of in-class assignments, including small group discussions, short essay prompts, and debates. In order to fully participate, please bring your clickers (or cell phones) and Voices of Freedom to every class. I will grade any in-class assignments on a plus-check-minus system. A check-plus indicates exceptional work, a check represents basic competency, and a check-minus signals incomplete, inaccurate, or substandard work. Students who are absent will receive a zero for their participation grade that day and will not have an opportunity to make up the missing work. Students can drop their lowest in-class assignment and can miss up to three classes before their grade begins to drop. Missed classes beyond that will result in two points subtracted from your participation grade for each additional absence. Arriving late or leaving early from class will be counted as one-half an absence. Students who forget their clickers will also be penalized with one-half an absence. Students facing extenuating circumstances affecting their attendance (such as serious health issues, UWSP athletics, the birth of a child, military service, etc.) are encouraged to talk to me.

Exams: There are three midterm exams and one final exam over the course of the semester. The exams include multiple choice questions, term identifications, short answers and/or essay questions based on the lectures and assigned readings. With a valid, documented excuse, students may make up one missed regular exam. You must contact me by email within 24 hours of the missed exam to schedule the makeup. The final exam is cumulative and consists of multiple choice questions, term identifications, and/or essay questions that will ask you to draw conclusions from the material covered throughout the course. There is no makeup for the final exam, so make sure that you are available the date the final is scheduled (Wednesday, May 16 for section 1 and Thursday, May 17 for section 2).

Assessment Breakdown

Midterm Exam 1: 15%

Classroom Policies

This class uses “Turning Point Cloud” to do interactive polling. You will need to purchase a Turning Technologies code from the bookstore to participate in the class. You will be able to use your own device (a laptop, tablet, or smartphone) to respond to polling. If you do not have a device, you may check out a clicker from the UWSP IT Service Desk in room 027 ALB, basement of the UWSP Library free of charge. You will need your UWSP Student ID to get your clicker. Returning clickers: Clickers must be returned to IT Service Desk before the end of finals. Students with unreturned clickers will be billed a late fee and/or may be billed the replacement cost of the clicker. For Service Desk hours: <http://www.uwsp.edu/infotech/Pages/HelpDesk/default.aspx>

Turning Point Account You will need to create a Turning Technologies account in order to register your device to the class. Please use your UWSP email address to create an account here: <https://account.turningtechnologies.com/account/>

You can find help with Turning Point Cloud here:

<https://www.turningtechnologies.com/support/turningpoint-cloud>

Students are expected to arrive on time and to be attentive and engaged during class. This means you are not sleeping, reading/working on other materials, using electronic devices, talking to your neighbor, or disrupting class in any way. Students will raise their hands for questions and be respectful of fellow students and the professor. You may disagree with another person’s comment or position, but do so with courtesy and respect. For more information on classroom expectations, see: <http://www.uwsp.edu/dos/Pages/Academic-Misconduct.aspx>

All forms of academic dishonesty including, but not limited to, cheating, plagiarism, fraud, and unauthorized access to tests and assignments are strictly prohibited. Any words or ideas borrowed from another person or source, whether through a direct quotation or through paraphrasing, must be cited properly to avoid plagiarism. Please familiarize yourself with what constitutes plagiarism and how to avoid it. Violations of the university’s code of conduct are subject to sanctions ranging from a failing grade for an assignment to disciplinary hearings or potential failure of the course. For more information on academic dishonesty, see:

<http://www.uwsp.edu/dos/Documents/CommunityRights.pdf>

If you have a learning or physical challenge that requires accommodation, please contact the Disability and Assistive Technology Center as early as possible. They will then notify me privately of the accommodations that will facilitate your success in the course. Their office is located on the 6th floor of ALB (library), Voice: 715-346-3365, TTY: 715-346-3362.

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) is a federal law requiring educational institutions to provide reasonable accommodations for students with disabilities. For more information about UWSP's policies, see: <http://www.uwsp.edu/dos/Pages/ADA.aspx>

Tips for Success

Students often ask me how they should prioritize lecture materials and course readings when studying for exams. Here are some suggestions for optimizing your study habits. Lectures are important. Students should take copious notes and utilize the outlines and slides posted on D2L. The Give Me Liberty! textbook is great for supplementing the information we cover in class and serves as a helpful study resource. However, the textbook is not an adequate substitute for lecture, which is why attendance is so critical to your success in the class. Equally important are the short readings assigned in Voices of Freedom. The excerpts typically take less than 5-10 minutes to read and serve as the basis for in-class responses, group discussions, and exam questions. Make sure to complete the readings and to bring Voices of Freedom to every class.

Outside of interactive polling, computers and other electronic devices are not allowed in class without getting permission from me in advance. Studies have shown that students learn more and perform better by writing down the main ideas of lecture versus typing them. For more information, see the article in Scientific American entitled "A Learning Secret: Don't Take Notes with a Laptop" (<http://www.scientificamerican.com/article/a-learning-secret-don-t-take-notes-with-a-laptop/>).

For each lecture I provide an outline of the main ideas that you can locate on D2L. Feel free to print the outlines prior to coming to class and use them as a template for taking notes. I post lecture slides after each class. The outlines and slides are helpful resources as you prepare for exams.

I hold regular office hours on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 2-3:30pm (461 CCC). During this time, my priority is to talk to students about any questions or concerns they may have. I truly enjoy meeting with you to hear about how things are going. If you are struggling, stop by and let's chat. If you are unable to meet during office hours, email me and we will set up an alternative time.

Please note that the syllabus is subject to change and additional assignments may be added.
