Course Information

Course Description: Global resource and environmental problems from a historic, socioeconomic, and biological perspective.

Credits: three (3)

Prerequisite: No prerequisites are required to take this course.

GEP: Environmental Responsibility (ER) and Social Sciences (SS)

Course Learning Outcomes

This course fulfills the GEP requirements for Environmental Responsibility (ER) and Social Sciences (SS). By the end of this course students will be able to:

1. Recognize areas of interaction between human society and the natural environment.
2. Identify the individual, social, cultural, and ecological factors that influence environmental sustainability.
3. Evaluate competing scientific claims that inform environmental debates.
4. Explain or apply major concepts, methods, or theories used in the social sciences to investigate, analyze, or predict human behavior.
5. Examine and explain how social, cultural, or political institutions influence individuals or groups.

Each week of the course we will focus on one of the above Course Learning Outcomes (CLOs), and more specific Student Learning Outcomes (SLOs). CLOs and SLOs will be posted each week in Canvas, along with the tasks that need to be completed for each week.

You will meet the outcomes listed above through a combination of the following activities in this course:

- Participate in Online Group Discussions
- Complete Written Assignments
- Complete Reading Quizzes
- Complete Module Quizzes
- Participate in two Sustainability Events and write a reflection

Textbook & Course Materials

Required Text:

National Geographic Learning Reader: Green; 1st ed.

ISBN-13: 978-1133603580; ISBN-10: 1133603580

This text is available through UWSP Text Rental, online through Canvas, or can be purchased online through Amazon.com or other online retailers.

Text description:

Bring your learning to life with compelling images, media and text from National Geographic. GREEN will help you develop a clearer understanding of the world around you through engaging content. This reader's themes are inspired by our changing relationship with the earth, based on an understanding that the planet's resources are finite and that our future depends on preserving them. While the term "green" signifies a level of awareness about environmental concerns, it is used here in the broadest sense, to draw your attention to the state of the planet and to promote discourse on how to address the needs of the human population as well as the ecosystems that sustain life in our world. To what extent we see ourselves as members of a global community and to rethink how we will meet the growing needs of our population in the future are the two central questions this collection asks you to consider critically.

Other Readings: Required readings that are not from the text will be available in Canvas, in the module where the topic is being covered. Readings may be in document form (.doc, .pdf) or on a website.

Course Technology Requirements

- Minimum recommended computer and internet configurations for online courses can be found here.
- You will also need access to the following tools to participate in this course: a stable internet connection (don't rely on cellular);
it is extremely important that you are able to access the internet multiple times during the week. You will not be able to succeed in this course if you do not have a stable internet connection. Please contact Dr. Petrillo asap if this becomes an issue.

Course Structure

This course will be delivered entirely online through the course management system Canvas. This course is asynchronous online, which means there are no required Zoom or other weekly meetings for this course. You will use your UWSP account to login to the course from the Canvas Login Page. If you have not activated your UWSP account, please visit the Manage Your Account page to do so.

Student Expectations

In this course you will be expected to complete the following types of tasks:

- communicate via email
- complete basic internet searches
- download and upload documents to the LMS (Canvas)
- read documents online
- view online videos
- participate in online discussions
- complete quizzes/tests online
- upload documents to Canvas to submit an assignment

It is critical that you use your UWSP email to communicate with us and your other instructors throughout the semester. Instructors and University staff use your UWSP email accounts to send important information. Please do not use your personal Gmail or other accounts for class or other UWSP business.

Topic Outline/Schedule

Important Note: Refer to the Canvas course home page for pertinent information. Activity and assignment details will be explained in detail within each week's corresponding Module. As tasks come due, they will appear in your "to do" list. If you have any questions, please contact Dr. Petrillo. We encourage you to subscribe to Canvas notifications, so when we post something in Canvas, it sends you a notification to your email.

Each Friday morning, new lecture information will appear with resources and tasks that need to be completed each week. We will usually post a video at the beginning of each week's page, explaining what we will be covering and what needs to be done. Assignments, discussions, quizzes, and other material will generally be due by 11:59pm on Thursdays. Again, new lecture information will open Friday mornings, and you will have until the following Thursday at 11:59pm to complete assignments.

Modules (Topics) Covered in class:

Ecological Footprints
Water Resources
Climate Change
Agriculture
Product Certification and International Agriculture

You will see resources each week associated with these Modules. We recommend logging into our course Canvas page multiple times throughout the week to access new course material and see what needs to be done that week. Generally, assignments, quizzes, discussions, etc. will be due on Thursdays at 11:59pm. It is very important to keep up with the course and watch for assignments, discussions, quizzes and due dates. Please contact Dr. Petrillo if you have any questions.

GENERAL GUIDELINES:

This online course requires the student to be aware of due dates of discussion posts, assignments, quizzes, etc. There is something to do for the class each week, with some weeks having more than one discussion/quiz/assignment due. We will have reminders and postings about when things are due, but it is very important for each student to stay on top of the course. If you feel you are falling behind or having trouble keeping up, it is important to contact us as soon as possible.

DISCUSSIONS:

We will have 3 discussions during the semester, each worth 100 points, for a total of 300 points and 30% of your total course grade. Students will be assigned to a group of six (6) students for discussions. You will stay in your assigned group for the entire semester, unless an issue arises. If you are having issues with your group, please contact Dr. Petrillo immediately. Each discussion will be open for approximately 2 weeks. Discussions generally involve some individual work, and also some work with your group. It is important to pay attention to the due dates for the Discussions. All discussions will have 2 parts, where you will have one week to complete your individual part of the discussion, and then you have one more week to respond to your group members or complete a group activity. Please do not wait until the last minute to connect with your group members. You will be graded on the completion and quality of your posts. Active and on-time participation is critical for discussions to work effectively and for students to have a positive experience in Discussions. Please participate!!! If you have questions about how to post, etc. please contact Dr. Petrillo asap (well before the due date) so I can help you. See Canvas for the Discussion grading rubric.

WRITTEN ASSIGNMENTS:

Five written assignments will be associated with course topics throughout the semester, worth 70 points each for a total of 350 points (35% of course grade). Each assignment will be completed individually and uploaded electronically to Canvas.

QUIZZES:

Two types of quizzes are given in this class: 1) Reading quizzes, which are associated with readings from the National Geographic Learning Reader (textbook), and 2) Module quizzes, which are based on resources and assignments given within each module.

Reading Quizzes: Five (5) reading quizzes will be given throughout the semester, which can be completed once you have done the assigned readings from the National Geographic Learning Reader. Each reading quiz is worth a total of 18 points, for a total of 90 points and 9% of your total grade.

Module Quizzes: Five (5) module quizzes will be given throughout the semester, worth 24 points each, for a total of 120 points and 12% of your total grade.

SUSTAINABILITY EVENTS! PARTICIPATION & REFLECTION:

You are required to participate in (in-person or virtually) two (2) sustainability-related events/films/documentaries/books/etc., and complete a written reflection of each one, worth 70 points each and 14% of your total course grade. The purpose of this is to get everyone in class actively participating in something related to sustainability during the semester. After attending/watching/reading the event/film/book, you will have to fill out a reflection form and upload your completed form to CANVAS. Some examples are: watching a film, TED talk, or reading a book related to sustainability, attendance at a sustainability-related event for a student organization, attending a farmers market and learning about local food, etc. Since many in-person events are not happening due to COVID-19, we will be providing online/virtual examples of ways you can complete your Sustainability Events during the semester. Events can be on- or off- campus, during the week or on the weekend, anywhere that you are! To make sure your event will 'count' please talk to Dr. Petrillo about it, either by email, or during office hours. Both sustainability assignments are due by the last day of class.

Participation

Students are expected to participate in all online activities as listed on the course calendar. While there is not a specific 'participation grade' for this course, each student is expected to participate in all of the course 'tasks' (quizzes, group discussions and assignments). Failure to complete tasks will result in a zero grade for each thing not completed. Overall, failure to participate in the course and complete tasks will negatively affect your course grade.

Complete Assignments

All assignments for this course will be submitted electronically through Canvas. Assignments must be submitted by the given deadline to be considered for full credit. Late assignments (not discussions) may be turned in but will be subject to a substantial point deduction. We are willing to work with you on an individual level to get your work completed before the end of the semester. However, we will not allow someone to make up work if contacted at the end of the semester and asked to make up several weeks' worth of material. We are happy to help students on an individual basis but will not allow someone to not participate for many weeks and honor a request to do all assignments at once or within the last couple of weeks of the semester. Please be respectful of your instructors as well as yourself and be honest with us about your situation.

Late Work Policy

Pay close attention to deadlines, through the Canvas 'To Do' list and Calendar. Only material turned in by the due date will be considered for full credit. Late assignments, quizzes, or other course material may be turned in late, but will be subject to a substantial point deduction. All discussion assignments must be completed by the assignment due date and time and are not able to be completed late for a reduced grade. Missing discussion assignments will negatively affect the student's grade. Discussions cannot be made up late since they are intended to be completed with group members within the stated time frame.

We understand that we are in challenging times, and as we stated above we are very willing to work with students to make up missing work; but we also expect you to reach out to Dr. Petrillo and Dr. Anderson as soon as you can to make a plan to complete missing work and not to wait until the last minute to reach out.

Viewing Grades in Canvas

Points you receive for graded activities will be posted to Grades. Click on the Grades link in Canvas to view your points.

You will see a visual indication of new grades posted on your Canvas home page under the link to this course.

Letter Grade Assignment

Final grades assigned for this course will be based on the percentage of total points earned and are assigned as follows:

D+	665-694	66.5-69.4%
D	595-664	59.5-66.4%
F	< 594	0-59.4%

Course Policies

Netiquette Guidelines

Netiquette is a set of rules for behaving properly online. Your instructor and fellow students wish to foster a safe online learning environment. All opinions and experiences, no matter how different or controversial they may be perceived, must be respected in the tolerant spirit of academic discourse. You are encouraged to comment, question, or critique an idea but you are not to attack an individual. Working as a community of learners, we can build a polite and respectful course community.

The following netiquette tips will enhance the learning experience for everyone in the course:

- Do not dominate any discussion.
- Give other students the opportunity to join in the discussion.
- Do not use offensive language. Present ideas appropriately.
- Be cautious in using Internet language. For example, do not capitalize all letters since this suggests shouting.
- Popular emoticons such as 😊 or / can be helpful to convey your tone but do not overdo or overuse them.
- Avoid using vernacular and/or slang language. This could possibly lead to misinterpretation.
- Never make fun of someone's ability to read or write.
- Share tips with other students.
- Keep an "open-mind" and be willing to express even your minority opinion. Minority opinions have to be respected.
- Think and edit before you push the "Send" button.
- Do not hesitate to ask for feedback.
- Using humor is acceptable

Build Rapport

If you find that you have any trouble keeping up with assignments or other aspects of the course, make sure you let your instructor know as early as possible. As you will find, building rapport and effective relationships are key to becoming an effective professional. Make sure that you are proactive in informing your instructor when difficulties arise during the semester so that we can help you find a solution.

Understand When You May Drop This Course

It is the student's responsibility to understand when they need to consider unenrolling from a course. Refer to the UWSP Academic Calendar for dates and deadlines for registration. After this period, a serious and compelling reason is required to drop from the course. Serious and compelling reasons includes: (1) documented and significant change in work hours, leaving student unable to attend class, or (2) documented and severe physical/mental illness/injury to the student or student's family.

Incomplete Policy

Under emergency/special circumstances, students may petition for an incomplete grade. An incomplete will only be assigned if the instructor, student, and Dean of Students have been notified and collectively developed a schedule for completion of coursework. All incomplete course assignments must be completed within one month from the end of the semester.

Inform Your Instructor of Any Accommodations Needed

If you have a documented disability and verification from the Disability and Assistive Technology Center and wish to discuss academic accommodations, please contact your instructor as soon as possible. It is the student's responsibility to provide documentation of disability to Disability Services and meet with a Disability Services counselor to request special accommodation before classes start.

The Disability and Assistive Technology Center is located in 609 Albertson Hall and can be contacted by phone at (715) 346-3365 (Voice) (715) 346-3362 (TDD only) or via email at datctr@uwsp.edu

Statement of Policy

UW-Stevens Point will modify academic program requirements as necessary to ensure that they do not discriminate against qualified applicants or students with disabilities. The modifications should not affect the substance of educational programs or compromise academic standards; nor should they intrude upon academic freedom. Examinations or other procedures used for evaluating students' academic achievements may be adapted. The results of such evaluation must demonstrate the student's achievement in the academic activity, rather than describe his/her disability.

If modifications are required due to a disability, please inform the instructor and contact the Disability and Assistive Technology Center in 609 ALB, or (715) 346-3365.

Commit to Integrity

As a student in this course (and at this university) you are expected to maintain high degrees of professionalism, commitment to active learning and participation in this class and also integrity in your behavior in and out of the classroom.

UWSP Academic Honesty Policy & Procedures

Student Academic Disciplinary Procedures

UWSP 14.01 Statement of principles

The board of regents, administrators, faculty, academic staff and students of the university of Wisconsin system believe that academic honesty and integrity are fundamental to the mission of higher education and of the university of Wisconsin system. The university has a responsibility to promote academic honesty and integrity and to develop procedures to deal effectively with instances of academic dishonesty. Students are responsible for the honest completion and representation of their work, for the appropriate citation of sources, and for respect of others' academic endeavors. Students who violate these standards must be confronted and must accept the consequences of their actions.

UWSP 14.03 Academic misconduct subject to disciplinary action.

- (1) Academic misconduct is an act in which a student:
 - (a) Seeks to claim credit for the work or efforts of another without authorization or citation;
 - (b) Uses unauthorized materials or fabricated data in any academic exercise;
 - (c) Forges or falsifies academic documents or records;
 - (d) Intentionally impedes or damages the academic work of others;
 - (e) Engages in conduct aimed at making false representation of a student's academic performance; or
 - (f) Assists other students in any of these acts.

- (2) Examples of academic misconduct include, but are not limited to: cheating on an examination; collaborating with others in work to be presented, contrary to the stated rules of the course; submitting a paper or assignment as one's own work when a part or all of the paper or assignment is the work of another; submitting a paper or assignment that contains ideas or research of others without appropriately identifying the sources of those ideas; stealing examinations or course materials; submitting, if contrary to the rules of a course, work previously presented in another course; tampering with the laboratory experiment or computer program of another student; knowingly and intentionally assisting another student in any of the above, including assistance in an arrangement whereby any work, classroom performance, examination or other activity is submitted or performed by a person other than the student under whose name the work is submitted or performed.

Religious Beliefs

Relief from any academic requirement due to religious beliefs will be accommodated according to UWS 22.03, with notification within the first three weeks of class.
