Psy 494 FIELD PLACEMENT

Psy 494 FIELD PLACEMENT OBJECTIVES.
1. To provide opportunities for you to observe and learn from experienced human services professionals.
2. To apply psychological and multicultural theories, principles, and research findings that you have learned in previous courses to a human services setting.
3. To develop observational and recording skills that will allow you to develop an articulate, organized case presentation; to familiarize you with writing styles appropriate to human services settings.
4. To facilitate your career decision making by incorporating field experience.

REQUIREMENTS.
1. Knowledge of and adherence to the Psychology Department Undergraduate Human Services Internship Manual.
2. Knowledge of and adherence to the American Psychological Association Ethical Principles of Psychologists.
3. Knowledge of the specific agency’s requirements for intern duties and a commitment to fulfill these requirements.
4. Consultation with your Field Supervisor and the 494/495 Psychology Department Internship Supervisor in the event of conflict between requirements 1 and 2.
5. Willingness to be open to new experiences, to challenge yourself, and to accept constructive feedback from the Psychology Department Internship Supervisor, Field Placement Supervisor, fellow interns, and agency staff.
6. Ability to conduct yourself in a mature and professional manner as reflected through your participation in agency discussions, interactions with clients, and seminar discussions.
7. Completion of all internship hours in a timely, consistent manner.
Psy 494 GRADING POLICY.
I will assign the final grade for your internship credit (Psy 494) based largely on your Field Supervisor’s observations and evaluation of your work. Your supervisor will be asked to evaluate you around week 6 and again at the end of the term. A sample evaluation form is in the internship manual. In case of a discrepancy between your supervisor’s, your and my estimation of your performance, I will consider degree of professionalism exhibited, progress in performance, willingness to take appropriate initiative and responsibility at the field site, and review of journal entries. While students usually do well in 494, an A or A- grade is not guaranteed. There are many reasons why some students receive grades lower than an A. If you have any questions concerning your performance at your internship, the quality of your site supervision, conflicts with internship staff, or problems completing hours, please see me as soon as possible.

Psychology 495 —Human Service Internship Seminar

SEMINAR OBJECTIVES.
1. To review and discuss/process professional ethics and cultural competence as they relate to internship settings and experiences.
2. To formulate and discuss student-presented case studies in a professional seminar format.
3. To apply theory and research on psychological disorders, treatment, assessment, organizational behavior, etc. to placement settings, while also incorporating both positive psychological and multicultural perspectives.
4. To develop self-reflection regarding your performance, clinical skills, strengths, and areas for growth/weaknesses.

REQUIREMENTS.
1. Reading and discussion of the assigned text. Chapters are designated with a “Ch” in the syllabus.
2. Maintenance of an ongoing typed APPLICATION journal of field placement activities and impressions. Journals are to be submitted to me on D2L on the dates indicated in syllabus. See separate handout for journal suggestions. Integration of what you are seeing on internship and what you have learned in various classes is expected. This is NOT meant to be simply a report of when you went to your internship and the general timeline of your day; the key is to APPLY psychological theories, constructs, ethics, etc.…to your observations and interactions at your internship. This will require referencing past courses, past and current textbooks, journal articles, etc.…(see examples of excellent versus substandard journal entries provided on a separate handout).
3. Regular participation in on-line discussions and presence at in-person seminar meetings to be determined.
4. Written responses to questions related to text or other topics as noted on the syllabus calendar.
5. Oral presentation and written case study (see separate handout).
6. Typed summary of and reflection on all you have learned during the term.
7. Submission of a log sheet at the end of the term, signed by your supervisor, indicating dates and hours of internship participation.

Please print the APA Ethical Codes available at http://www.apa.org/ethics/code/index.aspx Be sure to bring these codes with you to each in-person class period and refer to them often as you analyze your internship experiences and those of your classmates as well.

ADDITIONAL READINGS. Supplementary readings (hardcopy reserve, handouts, and e-reserve) may be assigned throughout the semester.

PSY 495 GRADING POLICY. As with 494, it is possible to receive a grade that is less than an A. It is not uncommon to receive two different grades for 494 and 495. For example, Student X may receive an A from a supervisor in 494, but does not make progress in the depth of his reflection on his experience in 495 application journals. Student Y’s integration of psychological information with the placement experience is not excellent (A), but is above average (B+). Less common, but possible, is a pattern where the student has exceptional abilities when discussing case dynamics or applying textual material in the seminar, but by the 6th week is still interpersonally awkward, reluctant to do more than observe at the placement site, or not completing assigned tasks at the site.

In addition to attendance, the following will be considered in determining your final grade for the seminar: quality of written assignments and journal submissions, progress in reflecting upon your internship experience and integrating psychological information into your journal (40%); quality of case presentation (35%); written homework assignments and class participation for both in-person meetings and on-line discussions (25%).

Class participation is essential to enhance your learning in this class and on internship. You will apply principles and techniques more effectively if you are able to notice the similarities between your internship site or client problems and those of other students, especially when the sites seem different at first. Participation includes spontaneously discussing your experiences, relating them to those of other students, or applying your experience to readings, as well as asking questions of other students, answering questions posed to you by the instructor or other students, etc…. You can also help other students learn by making observations or giving suggestions about handling specific situations.

While exact points are determined at the end of the semester, typical participation grades are as follows.

A-/A: You are clearly prepared for class, you volunteer to discuss internship experiences, you “risk” giving and accepting and constructive criticism from others, and you spontaneously ask or answer questions regarding readings, assignments, or case presentations in both online and in-person formats. The person who receives a full “A” for participation would be seen by others as one who “carries the class”. It is entirely possible for every student to receive an A for participation.

B-/B: You are prepared, have excellent deportment when called upon, but rarely spontaneously ask or answer questions during class or online discussions or volunteer to discuss internship experiences.

C-D: Your punctuality is poor, you rarely speak in class or participate in on-line discussions.
