FRANK S. HYER

- Frank Hyer served on the faculty at Stevens Point as principal of the Training School.
- The people he had surrounding him were described as "practical-minded" and his aim was to produce teachers who could go out into the field and do a creditable job.
- Elementary education was a major interest of President Hyer, and he placed much emphasis on that area of the curriculum.
- Although his tenure was during difficult economic times, there was an increase in enrollment due to a scarcity of jobs.
