JOHN C. THOMSON

- Was an executive with Sentry Insurance in Stevens Point, and was described as a "researcher and scholar."
- He made outstanding contributions to higher education in Wisconsin as a member of the State University System Board of Regents from 1960 to 1965, and of the State Coordinating Committee for Higher Education.
- Served as the first elected president of the University Foundation.
- Shortly after his death in 1966, an editorial in the Stevens Point Daily Journal noted that he was concerned with the nature of things to come, and the manner of preparing for them. "His thoughts went beyond our immediate selfish concerns to envision an improved society for generations yet unborn."
